Snippets from Recent Club Programs

April 4 – Sam Cosgrove, CU Boulder Friends of International Students (BFIS)

Sam (hired this past year as Program Coordinator for the BFIS Program at CU) told club members about how they can sign up to be a part of this program that brings together international students at CU with local area families and individuals to help them feel at home here. BFIS volunteers meet once a month with their international student to do fun activities such as hiking, dinners, movies, concerts, and bowling. Volunteers can request meeting an international student from a specific country or area of interest. The length of serving as a BFIS volunteer is for one academic year (September through May). For this current academic year at CU, 60 international students joined the BFIS Program in September; and 30 more, in January. BFIS organizes eight social events each semester for international students and their volunteer families/individuals. You can sign up to be a BFIS volunteer at -- www.colorado.edu/news/content/boulder-friends-international-students-seeking-hospitality-families. After Sam’s presentation, Sam talked with club members about possibly having BFIS students give presentations at our meetings.

April 11 – Marc Brown, Spellbinders (adults telling stories to kids)

Marc talked about the “Spell Binders” non-profit that trains volunteers how to tell stories, and arranges for them to tell stories to youth in local area schools and other locations. He’s a member of the Boulder Valley Spellbinders that meets the first Thursday of each month from 4:30-6:00 p.m. in the lower level conference room at the Brookdale Boulder North elder-care center (3350 30th Street). He gave an example about the kind of stories that Spell Binders volunteers give, an Irish tale about the not-so-bright young man Jack who faithfully heeded the advice of his mother about protecting his pay for his jobs, but could not adapt her advice to the pay he received in a different form every day (e.g., coins, butter, a hambone, and a donkey). In 1997, Spellbinders became a Colorado non-profit with the goal of establishing Spellbinders volunteer storytelling chapters around the U.S. The national office offers the materials, methods and sometimes seed funding necessary to start a Spellbinders chapter, while chapters train and place volunteers. Today, Spellbinders has 18 chapters in six states and Canada. During the 2013-2014 school year, Spellbinders volunteers told stories to an audience of more than 434,000 children in nearly 2,614 classrooms, libraries, and other locations. For more information or to volunteer, see -- www.spellbinders.org

Update on Taste of Downtown Boulder Fundraiser

– Joe Girard, Taste of Downtown Boulder Project Leader

One of our club's largest fund raisers -- Taste of Downtown Boulder -- is still ON for Saturday April 23 from 1-4 p.m. Ticket sales are in progress now. Please remember to kindly thank all patrons AND all restaurants who participate. There are 16 in all, a record! See if you can sample and give thanks at all of them. It can't happen without them, or without YOU. See you on the Pearl Street Mall! Thanks!

Project Sanctuary "Gala Fundraiser" on May 21

– Heather Ehle (CEO/Founder, Project Sanctuary)

Project Sanctuary has been fortunate to be in contact with Foothills Kiwanis about the critically important services we provide to our military families. We are most grateful for your club's past support of those services. Thank you!

One question I am often asked is, "How else can we help?" I am thrilled to let you know that we have a FUN way for your club members to "activate your impact for military families" next month! Join us for our inaugural "Operation Project Sanctuary (O.P.S.) Gala" on Armed Forces Day, Saturday, May 21, 2016, at 5:30 p.m. The Broncos fans among your club members will be especially excited to learn that the location is the East Club Lounge of Sports Authority Field at Mile High, home of Super Bowl 50 champions Denver Broncos. Trust me, this is going to be THE military family support event of the year! You can register on-line at --:

<https://projectsanctuary.ejoinme.org/MyEvents/20160PSGala>. I encourage your club members to --

- Register to attend and join in the celebration on event night!
- Consider a sponsorship to the event – we have two silver sponsorships (at $5,000 each) and three bronze sponsorships (at $2,500 each) that we're looking to fill!
- Donate an item to the silent or live auction!

Again, thank you for your support of Project Sanctuary's mission of taking military families from battle ready to family ready. With 1,800 families on our wait-list, you are truly helping us transform and save lives. I look forward to seeing you at Mile High on Armed Forces Day!
