The club now has 23 local business and professional men as members and will continue to enroll charter members through Sept. 23.

McCleary, Boulder Valley Schools, vice president, and Richard Laughlin, University of Colorado, secretary-treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were Clayton W. Bell, J. Richard Engel, William J. Mattingly, Gus Poulos, B. D. Boeve, Henry Feigenheimer, and Richard Grunz.

The new Kiwanis Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Flatirons. Chairman of the sponsoring committee is Arlo Sutton, who is also president of the Flatirons club.

First act of the new club's Board of Directors was to appoint a special committee for their Charter - Night arrangements, which will be held Sept. 23.

The newly-formed Kiwanis Club of the Foothills is one of 5,500 such groups which are located in 29 countries of the free world. The total Kiwanis membership is 275,000. Purpose of Kiwanis is "service to youth, community, and nation." Its motto is "We Build."

CLUB CHARTER NIGHT

September 23, 1969

CLUB CHARTERED—The new Kiwanis Club of Foothills, the city's third Kiwanis Club, officially received its charter Tuesday night during a program here. The Rev. Douglas Wasson (left) of Colorado Springs, district governor of Kiwanis, presented the charter to Lee Johnson (right), president of the new club. The banner was presented to the club by the Flatirons Kiwanis of Boulder, which sponsored the new club. The Foothills club begins with 41 members.

New Kiwanis Club Of Foothills Received Charter Tuesday Night

Boulder's newest men's service club became official Tuesday night when Charter Night ceremonies were held for the Kiwanis Club of the Foothills.

Over 200 Kiwanians from all over Colorado and their wives gathered at the Boulder Elks Lodge to honor the 41 charter members of the new club, Boulder's third Kiwanis Club.

The Rev. Douglas Wasson of Colorado Springs, Rocky Mountain district governor of Kiwanis, presented the charter to Foothills Kiwanis President Lee Johnson, characterizing the service club member as "the man who gets things done." He said service club members are those who "always have time for progress and community service."

Rev. Wasson quoted an old saying "if you live in a community that is run by a committee, be sure you're on the committee," to point out that the vocation of every man "is to serve other people." He said Kiwanians must have a love for people, so they can "help people help themselves."

Chapter of the Sweet Adelines from Boulder. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Melvin Briere of the Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, a new Foothills Kiwanian.

Charter Night

One last reminder: the official chartering of the Foothills Kiwanis Club is Tuesday evening, September 23rd at the Boulder Elks Lodge, 3975 28th Street. The social hour will start at 6:30p.m. with dinner at 7:30. Tickets are only $5 per person for the prime roast beef dinner. BE THERE!

Final arrangements for the dinner will be held at the Monday meeting, so it is important to attend. Please find two tickets enclosed with this newsletter if you haven't already purchased yours. If you can't attend the Charter Night, return the tickets Monday morning at the meeting, to Bill Mattingly. You should pay him for the tickets of course at that time if you are planning to use them, or arrange for the secretary-treasurer to bill you later.

Stavely to Speak

We will be especially honored at this Monday's meeting to have Dan Stavely, the coach of CU's freshman football team, speak. It is expected that he will explain why CU won against Tulsa (I'm an alum; I can't be objective!) and give some details on the upcoming game with Penn State. Stavely is the guest of our secretary-treasurer, Rich Laughlin.

District Convention

Five Foothills Kiwanians attended the Rocky Mountain District Kiwanis convention last weekend in Cheyenne, Wyoming. They were president Lee Johnson, M.J. Pelillo, Lloyd Roosa, Dick Grunz, and Bill Mattingly. They cast the club's 2 votes at the Sunday House of Delegates to elect the new District officers.

We of course are proud of Flatirons Kiwanis member Larry Stiffler's gallant bid for District Governor-elect. Unfortunately he didn't make it, but we know he will be in there working hard for Kiwanis, just as he has done in helping launch the Foothills Club. We hear Flatirons Kiwanis president Arlo Sutton gave a whale of a speech in nominating Larry.

More New Members:

Three more gentlemen have joined us in Foothills Kiwanis. They are: Ron Craig, 260 Cimmaron Way, who is with the Leach and Arnold real estate firm; John Hatch of 1483 Old Tale Road; and the Reverend Melvin Briere of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church. We have had several excellent prospects at meetings, so more members are on the way!

RECEIVES AWARD—Lee Johnson (right), charter president for the Foothills Kiwanis Club here, has received the Kiwanis International Presidential Citation for Membership Development. Making the presentation on behalf of regional Kiwanis officials at a meeting of the club was Larry Stiffler of Boulder. Johnson received the award for enrolling the most new members of Kiwanis of all members of the Rocky Mountain Kiwanis District.

Lee Johnson Receives Kiwanis Award For Enlisting Members

Lee Johnson, president of the Kiwanis Club of Foothills here, was honored at the Rocky Mountain District Kiwanis Convention, held in Greeley for his outstanding membership development efforts on behalf of the Club.

Johnson was presented with the Kiwanis International Presidential Citation for Membership Development by Maurice Gladman, a trustee representing Kiwanis International President Robert F. Weber. The award is for his recruiting the most new Kiwanians of all members in the Rocky Mountain District, which consists of 90 clubs throughout Colorado, Wyoming, and the western panhandle of Nebraska.

The citation was presented on behalf of the Kiwanis president and the award was accepted by the incoming president of the Foothills Club, Lloyd Roosa, for Johnson.

At the recent meeting of the Foothills Club, the award, as well as the Rocky Mountain District Kiwanis Governor's Award, was presented to Johnson by Larry Stiffler, who represented the district governor and international representatives in the official presentation. Stiffler is a member of the Flatirons Kiwanis Club and assisted in the formation of the Foothills Club last September.

Stiffler stated that the citation is a most coveted award and that Johnson's receiving it was very significant due to the Foothills Club having been organized only last year. Johnson was the club's charter president.

The first anniversary of the Foothills Kiwanis Club will be observed Sept. 19 at the Boulder Elks Club, with the installation of the new officers. William Jacobs, Rocky Mountain District lieutenant governor, Division 11, will conduct the official installation of Roosa as president. Other officers to be installed are Clayton Bell, president-elect; Frank Young, vice president, and Rudi Baumann, secretary-treasurer. The event will include a reception at 6:30, dinner at 7:30, and dancing at 9. It will be attended by Foothills Kiwanis Club members and their wives, plus numerous other Kiwanians.
